Art displayed at the Louise and Arnold Kotler Art Gallery provides our community with an educational, cultural, and aesthetic experience.

The library will:

- Provide exhibition space without charge for three months.
- Provide labels/information cards next to each art piece.
- Provide publicity, including press releases, flyers, email invites, and in-house posters. The artist is free to provide publicity to other sources.
- Provide customer access to a price list of art pieces at the library's Information Desk near the gallery. No sales are permitted on library property. The library will not charge a commission fee on art sold.

The artists will:

- Complete and submit the attached form (1st page). The Kotler Gallery Art Committee will review the submitted information and samples to select artists for exhibits. Once decisions have been made, artists will be contacted by phone or email.
- Hang and remove art pieces on the designated dates.
- Provide a list of the art pieces by title, medium and dimensions (frame included) and the price if the piece is for sale.
- Provide business cards and biography sheet to be on display near the exhibit (optional).
- Provide art work that is "ready for hanging".
- Avoid controversial subjects in their work.
- Sign an Indemnity agreement releasing the Tampa-Hillsborough County Public Library of all responsibility for the loss or damage of art work.
